

Jaspersoft Unlimited™ provides customers with a complete suite of BI products and services to address critical business needs in today's harsh economic environment

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8, 2009 – Jaspersoft Corporation, provider of the world's most widely used business intelligence (BI) software, today announced the availability of Jaspersoft Unlimited, a one-year infinite access pass to Jaspersoft's BI Suite Premium Professional Edition. Jaspersoft Unlimited includes the use of the entire Jaspersoft Business Intelligence Suite, with no limits on the number of applications, users or systems.

“Smart businesses are investing in BI tools today to inform decisions for tomorrow. But even the strongest companies are challenged with justifying the cost of expensive BI platforms,” said Brian Gentile, CEO of Jaspersoft. “With Jaspersoft Unlimited, customers are now able to move forward with all of their priority business intelligence projects, unconstrained by budget limitations.”

Jaspersoft Unlimited is designed to serve the needs of businesses that are struggling to meet all of their critical business intelligence needs while operating within the bounds of highly constrained budgets. With Jaspersoft Unlimited, customers receive all of the products in the Jaspersoft BI Suite, including premium technical support for all of their Jaspersoft projects, advanced technical documentation, and a four-day training class, all at one low price. Jaspersoft offered a similar package in 2007 and is today reprising the offer with additional features such as training to help customers perform important BI functions today.

Analysts concur that companies continue to prioritize BI while other IT categories are being cut. Jaspersoft's suite arms businesses with the essential tools needed to weather any economic climate and emerge stronger than ever before. Open source software has reached a maturity level in features and functionality that when combined with the cost, has become an important remedy for today's businesses.

In conjunction with the release of Jaspersoft Unlimited, Jaspersoft is publishing a white paper titled "Open Source Business Intelligence in a Down Economy," which is available at <http://www.jaspersoft.com/jaspersoft-unlimited-offer>
