

GNOME starts privacy fundraising campaign

Written by The H

Friday, 21 December 2012 08:12 - Last Updated Friday, 21 December 2012 08:40

A keynote speech by the Tor Project's Applebaum has inspired the GNOME Foundation to launch a campaign to enhance the privacy of the desktop environment...

The GNOME Foundation's executive director, Karen Sandler, has announced a new "Friends of GNOME" fund raising campaign specifically to help make GNOME "one of the most secure computing environments available", with a particular focus on privacy. Billed as "Help make GNOME safer than ever", the privacy campaign will fund development of application containment, improved disk encryption support, integration of TOR...Read more at The H